4. About Assessment

Assessment is a process used to determine whether students can demonstrate competency (ability) against a pre-determined set of measures (assessment methods). It is a process of collecting and validating evidence, which must be recorded by Training Consultants to prove student competence. The student must be made aware of how assessment will be completed and the Training Consultant will use the performance criteria from the training package and activities to ensure assessment is firmly related to the unit of competence.

Applied Education’s assessment process meets the 4 key principles of assessment valid, reliable, fair and flexible.

1. valid when it assesses what it claims to assess
2. reliable when it is consistent in all situations and with all students
3. fair when it places all students on equal terms
4. flexible when it can accommodate all delivery options and the needs of students.

At the end of each unit of competency, the student will be asked to demonstrate to us that they have learnt and applied the course content. This is called “demonstrating your competency”.

There will be a number of assessment tasks for each unit of competency. Each assessment task measures the required aspects of that unit.

Applied Education will utilise one or a combination of assessment methods depending on the needs of the student and the requirements of the course.

Competency Based Assessment

All courses delivered by Applied Education are assessed under the Principles of Competency Based Training. The aim of Competency Based Training is for an assessor to determine a student’s ability to do the activities in each unit of competency. Competencies focus on the knowledge and tasks that are required in the workplace. When students are being assessed on these activities, they will be required to perform them to the level required in the workplace.

For assessment tasks, students will be required to undertake a number of written and practical tasks to demonstrate their understanding of the required knowledge. If there is a section that is found not to be correct, students will be given feedback and the outcome “Not Yet Competent”. Students will then be given another opportunity to reattempt the incorrect section(s) of the assessment. Once a student has achieved the required outcome, they will be awarded the result ‘Competent’.

If after four attempts a student is still not assessed as being competent they will be required to attempt a new assessment. Additional fees will apply when a new assessment is required to be attempted.

All assessment results are recorded. Students will be notified of results in each assessment and have access to their assessments records through their online student platform.

Once all required units are completed a student will be issued with appropriate qualification documentation.

Time Taken for Submission to be assessed
First attempt – up to 10 business days
Reattempts – up to 5 business days
Australian Qualification Framework (AQF)
A full AQF Certificate is issued when the student has completed all requirements for a qualification as listed in the syllabus document. The certificate does not list the units of competency completed. These are listed on the Record of Results, which is issued on completion of the course. A Statement of Attainment will be issued if a student has not completed the entire course.

Applied Education has a right to withhold the issuance of qualification documentation if fees are unpaid.

Record of Results and Qualification Certificate
This will be issued to a student who has completed all of the necessary units for a qualification course.

Statement of Attainment
A Statement of Attainment is issued when a student has completed some but not all units required for a qualification course.

The Certificate or Statement of Attainment will be sent to the student’s nominated address within 10 working days after the course is completed.

It is important that Applied Education has the student’s current contact details so that the certificate is received promptly.

Replacement certificates will incur a fee of $50 and a statement of attainment will incur a fee of $30.

Previous Study and Skills Recognition
It may be possible for previous study or experience to be recognised through credit transfer or Recognised Prior Learning.

Credit Transfer
Applied Education recognises the AQF qualifications and Statements of Attainments issued by other Registered Training Organisations.

If students have a prior Qualification or a Statement of Attainment with a unit equivalent to what they are enrolled in, issued under the Australian Qualifications Framework from any state or territory, Applied Education will give exemptions for those units of competency.

The transfer of credit provides the student with exemption(s) from relevant unit(s) within a course. Credit transfer does not involve an assessment of the student’s knowledge or skills — it is an assessment of the credentials of the formal accredited learning presented against the destination course to determine the extent to which it is equivalent to the required learning outcomes, competency outcomes, or standards in a course.

Applied Education does not charge students for a credit transfer assessment.
Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)
Where permissible, all students have the opportunity to apply for RPL for already holding industry skills. RPL acknowledges the full range of an individual’s skills and knowledge. This includes competencies gained from work experience, employment and other life experiences.

RPL is an assessment process that assesses the individual’s non-formal and informal learning to determine the extent to which that individual has achieved the required learning outcomes or competency outcomes. RPL is assessed against the units of competency in a course based on the completion of one or a combination of the following:

- Review of Evidence including relevant Formal Qualifications
- Interviews
- Third party observations
- Phone interviews
- Validated workplace log books
- Written/ oral reviews

The Steps for an RPL Assessment
- A student must request a full or flexible RPL assessment at the time of enrolment.
- An assessor will advise the student of the evidence required and the student will be given access to the full curriculum so they can clearly identify the learning outcomes or competencies they have to apply.
- The student collects evidence to support their claim for RPL, which must be submitted to Applied Education.
- The assessor will then analyse individual experience and qualifications against appropriate learning outcomes/competency statements.
- If the claim matches the learning outcomes/ competencies then full recognition is granted.
- If the claim does not match the learning outcomes/ competencies then further evidence will be requested, this may also involve an interview where the student will support their case. Further evidence must be supplied within the negotiated timeframe.
- If further evidence is not recognised then the claim will be rejected.
- The student may appeal the decision and ask for an assessor to make a recommendation.
- The outcome will be forwarded to the student within 10 working days of the final decision.
- The completed RPL application form with evidence will be placed on the students file.
- Details of the application will be recorded.
5. Rights and Responsibilities

At the outset it is important to outline the rights and responsibilities for both students and Applied Education. These are detailed in the following section.

Rights and Responsibilities - Student

Student Behaviour
For students attending classroom training, consumption, or being under the influence of alcohol or elicit substances during training hours or abusing a trainer or other students will not be tolerated. Such behaviour will result in the student being asked to leave the premises and possibly may also result in them being removed from the course with no refund.

Abusive, bullying or aggressive phone calls or emails will also not be tolerated. If a student is found to have acted in an unacceptable manner they will be given a formal written warning. Further breaches will result in removal from the course with no refund.

Plagiarism
Plagiarism is the action or practice of taking and using, as one’s own thoughts or writings those of another without acknowledgement. The following practices constitute acts of plagiarism:

- Where paragraphs, sentences, a single sentence or significant parts of a sentence are copied directly from a source, are not enclosed in quotation marks and appropriately footnoted;
- Where direct quotations are not used but are paraphrased or summarised, and the source of the material is not acknowledged either by footnoting or other simple reference within the text of the paper;
- Where an idea which appears elsewhere in any form is used or developed without reference being made to the author or the source of that data.

If a student is found to have plagiarised another’s work they will be required to redo a new assessment. A new assessment fee of $150 will apply.

Rights and Responsibilities - Applied Education

Applied Education has a number of responsibilities to uphold to students. These are outlined in the following policies and procedures.

Applied Education believes in the principles of natural justice and reasonable adjustment, access and equity in learning. Applied Education has developed a Student Rights Statement to articulate the rights of the learner whilst studying with Applied Education.

Each learner has the right to:
- Learn in a safe environment
- Access their personal records
- Appeal assessment decisions
- Receive training / assessment appropriate to the AQF level of their qualification
- Be free from discrimination or harassment
- Be treated equally and fairly
- Have previous learning recognised
- Have their safety and dignity maintained
- Receive culturally appropriate training
- Give feedback on their learning experience
- The appropriate certificate on completion
Language, Literacy and Numeracy (LLN)

As part of the enrolment process Applied Education is required to check if a student requires any additional support before or during the course by undertaking a short Language, Literacy and Numeracy (LLN) online test. The purpose of this activity is to check a student’s readiness for study. Note it is a requirement that this assessment be undertaken.

Students requiring any assistance or support with language, literacy or numeracy should speak confidentially with their trainer or assessor. Where consistent with course requirements, students with concerns about having insufficient language, literacy and/or numeracy skills to complete the course may be provided with reasonable adjustment of course materials and assessment strategies that assist them in meeting qualification requirements through other methods.

An example of other methods: Advising the person of LLN institutes where improvements to language barriers can take place, this will be at an expense to the person and not Applied Education. Increase workbook text size if it’s deemed the student has a sight problem. Arrange seating within the classroom.

English as a Second Language (ESL)
Students with identified ESL needs can be given access to specialist support services to enable them to improve their English standards.

Important Notice Regarding Online Self-Paced Learning
Applied Education’s online learning programs are self-paced. These programs differ from classroom based learning in significant ways. In self-paced learning programs, both providers and students have responsibilities to uphold.

It is the responsibility of Applied Education to provide the learning framework for your studies, specify learning materials and offer electronic resources to support learning, offer assessment services which include marking and feedback, and support students by answering course-related queries.

Responsibilities of students include an obligation to initiate their own learning and discover the answers to assessment questions, pace learning to allow assessment within the given time frames, and to independently master any computer programs related to the course material. While our support officers may point you to material, chapters or resources where answers may be found, they are not permitted to provide the answers to students.

Induction
Full fee students are provided with detailed instructions and videos on how to proceed with their course through their online student platform. All new students will also receive a series of emails advising of the services and support they can receive while enrolled as a student of Applied Education.

Students who enrol as a trainee are provided with a face to face induction. This involves familiarisation with the course requirements and where appropriate providing a tour of training facilities and introduction to Applied Education staff. Inductions may be completed as a part of a group, on a one to one basis or via the telephone.
Applied Education Equal Opportunity Policy

Anti-Discrimination Policy
Applied Education’s student recruitment policy shall provide for its students equal opportunity regardless of sex, race, colour, national origin, age, religion and physical or mental handicap. Applied Education shall not show favouritism in any area to any student.

Access & Equity
Applied Education has a Code of Conduct that includes an access and equity policy. This document is available on request. It is the responsibility of all Applied Education staff to ensure the requirements of the Access & Equity Policy are met at all times.
Complaints and Appeals Policy and Procedure

If a student has a concern they should initially discuss their concern with the relevant staff member of Applied Education. If however the student is not satisfied with the outcome they are then able to elevate complaint and make use of the Complaints and Appeals procedure.

Policy
We ensure that:

- The Complaints and Appeals Policy and Procedure document is available for viewing on the Applied Education website under the ‘Student’ menu.

The key principles of the policy are:

- All grievances will be handled professionally and confidentially in order to achieve a satisfactory resolution.
- All parties will have a clear understanding of the steps involved in the grievance procedure.
- All grievance appeals and outcomes will be documented in writing.
- Applied Education will attempt to resolve any grievances fairly and equitably within 10 working days. Contact Applied Education for a copy of the Complaints and Appeals full policy and procedure.

Procedure
Students may raise any matters of concern relating to training delivery and assessment, the quality of the training, amenities, discrimination, sexual harassment and other issues that may arise.

The policy provides an avenue for most grievances to be addressed however in some cases alternative measures may need to be explored.

Students who feel they may have been unfairly treated may follow the procedures listed below.

- The student should first discuss the matter with an appropriate staff member of Applied Education. If not satisfied, the student may then:
- Download and fill in a ‘Complaints and Appeal Form’ which can be found in the ‘Students’ heading of the Applied Education website.
- Upon receipt of the filled in Complaint or Appeal form, the General Manager will discuss the circumstances with the relevant staff at Applied Education and then contact the student with an outcome within 10 working days.
- Applied Education will endeavour to resolve any complaint as quickly as possible. If however we determine that more than 60 calendar days are required to process and finalise the complaint or appeal, Applied Education will informs the complainant or appellant in writing, including reasons why more than 60 calendar days are required and regularly updates the complainant or appellant on the progress of the matter.
- Where a grievance cannot be resolved through discussion and conciliation, the need for an appropriate external and independent agent to mediate between the parties may be required. Applied Education is a member of the Resolution Institute (member number 34442) that administers a Student Mediation Scheme. Details of the Student Mediation scheme can be found at the following link. https://www.resolution.institute/membership-information/student-mediation-scheme
Applied Education will encourage the parties to approach a grievance with an open view and to attempt to resolve problems through discussion and conciliation. A Corrective Action Record will be raised and filed in the Quality Policy Folder for future reference.

The matter may be resolved by:

- Granting the appeal, or
- Rejecting the appeal, or
- Referring the matter to an independent external assessor for resolution.

Course Refund Policy – Full Fee Students

Applied Education will maintain a fair and equitable refund policy. Applied Education Pty Ltd does not accept liability for loss or damage suffered in the event of withdrawal to a course by a student. In the unlikely event that a course is cancelled, Applied Education will provide a full refund to all students enrolled in the course.

Full Refunds – Full Fee Students

All full fee students have a 14 day evaluation period. Course fee refunds are available to students who advise Applied Education of their request to withdraw from the course within 14 days of enrolment if studying as a self-paced student or within 14 days after the first class session if studying as a classroom student.

The enrolment date is the day that course fees were received.

All course cancellations will incur an administration fee as per the following schedule.

- Certificate IV: $100
- Diploma & Advanced Dip: $100
- TPB units: $50

A proportional refund will also be given on unmarked returned workbooks.

Please note that no refund is possible once the allowed 14 day evaluation period has been completed.

If a student wants to cancel their course after the allowed 14 day evaluation period, Applied Education will offer the following options in lieu of a refund.

- Postponement of study for up to six months
- Transfer to another course to the same or lesser value

Applied Education may consider a pro rata refund of fees and charges at any time during the course of delivery if a student withdraws for reasons of personal hardship beyond their control.

For Example:

- Serious illness
- Injury or disability that prevents the student from completing their program
- Other exceptional reasons at the discretion of the general manager

Please note that we will require documentary evidence to support any claims of hardship.
